Grant denied

A $600,000 grant application submitted by Madison County for development of the foreign trade zone at the Tri-City Regional Port and for housing rehabilitation in this area has been turned down by the Urban Development Action Grant Program of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, county officials were notified Friday.

Mary Kane, director of the county's Community Development office, said the county was told the application had passed two of the final three cuts, but was eliminated in the final consideration.

The county was invited to resubmit the application in March and Mrs. Kane said she plans to meet with HUD officials in February to discuss how the application can be improved.

The county had applied for $400,000 to develop the trade zone and for $200,000 to guarantee home rehabilitation loans from First Granite City National Bank and First National Bank in Madison.

"Obviously, we are very disappointed the grant was rejected.

"We will have to have some discussions before March to decide whether or not it should be resubmitted," Mrs. Kane concluded.

MOTORISTS AND PEDESTRIANS alike battle the elements Friday as snow fell on the Quad-City area, leaving four inches of snow on top of the ice which the roof of the bank building. Five more inches of snow fell Saturday and Sunday, bringing the area total snowfall to nine inches.

Governor OKs pay rollback bill

Governor James Thompson signed Sunday compromise legislation rolling back part of the $8,000 per year salary increases that lawmakers voted for themselves and for the governor last Nov. 29.

Under the governor's action—taken after he had received assurances from federal officials that the new pay-raise plan would meet President Carter's inflation guidelines—Governor Thompson and legislators will begin new terms today with annual salary boosts of $5,000.

The House and Senate, following an 18-hour marathon session that began Friday noon, concurred in a proposal that the $8,000 salary increase being divided into two parts, with lawmakers receiving $5,000 in 1979 and another $3,000 in 1980.

While the $5,000 raise for the legislators is a 25 percent increase, Governor Thompson's pay raise of $5,000 is an increase of 10 percent. He has been receiving $50,000 per year.

The governor called the legislature into special session last week to reconsider the earlier boost of $8,000 to become effective in 1979 because of thousands of complaints from irate taxpayers. The governor and the lawmakers received an estimated 40,000 leaflets, symbolizing the Boston

Tea Party as a taxpayers' protest. Governor Thompson was reportedly dissatisfied with the final compromise, but shortly after passage he told aides he would sign House Bill 802 in the form of an amendment to the original pay raise measure if it complied with inflation guidelines.

The governor received information early Sunday that Alfred E. Kahn, chairman of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, considered the $5,000-$3,000 arrangement in compliance with the guidelines. Governor Thompson sought a roll back of the $8,000 salary boost to a raise of $4,000 for 1979 and additional increases of $2,000 each in 1980 and 1981.

As the special General Assembly session got under way at noon Friday, the Senate approved and sent to the house a bill calling for the $4,000-$2,000-$2,000 formula.

The House, however, voted by voice vote not to concur in the Senate bill. Several senators said this was a confusing development in that a voice vote, instead of the usual electronic roll call, left the senators uncertain as to what the House members actually had in

According to Joseph Eckstein, associate area director from Kansas City, Mo., the local council had a 14.7 percent increase in youth membership during 1978.

The Hutchinson, Kan., council with a 5.8 percent membership growth was second in the region.

Geographically, the Cahokia Mound Council covers the southern half of Madison County and all of Bond County. During 1978, the youth membership in the council increased from 2,395 to 2,746.

Traffic deaths rise

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A total of 22 persons died in Quad-City traffic accidents during 1978, an increase of two, or 10 percent, over the 20 traffic fatalities in 1977, according to statistics compiled by the Press-Record.

In contrast, a total of 593 accidents in which injuries were incurred was a reduction of 49, or 7.6 percent below the 642 injury accidents reported during the previous year. And the total of 877 persons injured last year was a decline from the 1977 total of 955, a reduction of 78 or 8.1 percent.

The 22 fatalities during 1978 were considered a fairly low death ratio by comparison with earlier years. The tally, showed an increase over the 1977 traffic death statistics only by virtue of the unusual record set during the latter part of 1977, when there were no traffic fatalities in the area from September through December, a four-month period.

On the other hand, 12 of the traffic fatalities, or 54 percent of the year's total, occurred during those same months in 1978.

As of Aug. 31, 1977, statistics showed 20 traffic deaths for the year at that point. As of Aug. 31, 1978, there had

Toss of coin picks Buente

By "MICK" STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

An air of relief filled the Venice City Council Chamber Friday at 5:30 p.m. as the council unanimously elected Alderman E. H. Buente as acting mayor of the city until the April 17 election.

After meeting for nearly four hours on Tuesday and again for more than four hours on Thursday, the Venice council began meeting again at 3 p.m. on Friday.

Votes were four to four between Alderman George Mangiaracino and Tyrone Echols with the four black councilmen supporting Echols and the four white councilmen voting for Mangiaracino.

In a closed session Friday, according to City Attorney Harry Hartman, Mangiaracino withdrew in favor of Buente. Alderman Echols agreed to flip a coin with Buente, and by gentlemen's agreement the council agreed to support whoever won the toss of the coin. Buente won the toss.

When the final official roll call vote for mayor was taken, Alderman Buente abstained and the other seven councilmen voted for Buente.

At the Tuesday meeting, Buente had refused to accept the position as acting mayor due to what he said were health reasons.

Buente does not intend to run for mayor on April 17. Alderman Echols has announced that he is a candidate for mayor. If elected, he would be the first black mayor in the city's history.

City officials say that Venice is now 60 percent black and 40 percent white. Buente has been alderman of Ward One for 34 years and is a lifelong resident of the city.

The vacancy was created when former Mayor William Ebersold resigned Jan. 1.

Illinois law requires an acting mayor to be elected from among the aldermen.

He was promoted to vice-president of quality control on Jan. 1, 1973.

Solomon graduated from the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy at Rolla, Mo., in June 1935 with a bachelor of science degree in metallurgical engineering.

He received an honorary degree as professional metallurgical engineer from the University of Missouri-Rolla in May 1974, and the distinguished service award from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in June 1978.

Solomon is a member of many organizations, including the American Society for Metals, American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers, American Iron and Steel Institute, Association of Iron and Steel Engineers, and the Zinc Institute, Inc.

He was named by the Galvanizers Committee of the latter organization as recipient of the 1974 "Galvanizer of the year" award.

He is active in the affairs of SIUE, serving as a member of its Industrial Advisory Council and the Southern Illinois University Foundation, and was a member of the board of directors of the Mississippi River Festival summer concert series for a number of years. mind.

After the bill was sent back to the Senate, the lawmakers in that body were confronted with three alternatives.

One of these was to let the amendment bill die which would permit the $26,000 in 1979 to stand. Secondly, the senate had the option of taking off all amendments and sending the governor a bill for a $1 increase, and third, to place the bill in the Conference Committee for study.

The latter course was taken and the Conference Committee proposed the $5,000-$3,000 formula by a committee vote of eight ayes, one no and one voting present, with ten members on the committee.

That bill went to the Senate where it was approved by a vote of 33 to 10. The House approved it 97 to 22.

The legislature wound up its 18-hour session at 6 a.m. Saturday and sent the bill to Governor Thompson who said at that time he would sign the measure if it met the federal guidelines. His aides began calling Washington Saturday afternoon to get an opinion on the salary status under inflation guidelines.

The clamor by taxpayers against the $6,000 increase — a raise of 40 percent for the legislators — came in protests that the raises were in violation of President Carter's 7 percent guideline for salary hikes.

Objectors also contended the raise was voted during a lame-duck session following the Nov. 7 elections and because Thompson aided passage with an unprecedented veto message from a South Carolina vacation resort, which gave the lawmakers an opportunity to override the veto during its legislative session.

In signing the amendment bill yesterday, Governor Thompson said, "I did not call the special session of the legislature to put me back on a white horse. I called the session to see if we could repair some of the damage caused by the taxpayers' objections."

Traffic deaths

been only 10 traffic fatalities in the area.

From that time on last year, there were four traffic fatalities in September, four in October, two in November and two in December, to bring the year's total to 22.

Traffic fatality statistics for the Quad-City area include deaths occurring in accidents that happen in the area, as well as fatalities involving Quad-City residents that occur in other parts of the country.

The total of 593 injury accidents occurring in the Quad-Cities during 1978, involving the injury of 877 persons, does not include those accidents involving property damage only.

According to records, the largest number of injury accidents and the largest number of persons injured during any single month of 1978 occurred during April, when 73 crashes involving 103 injuries were reported.

During March, 97 persons were injured in 62 accidents, and during October, 91 persons were hurt in 48 mishaps.

Accident statistics for the 1978 year, including the number of injury accidents, the number of persons hurt and traffic deaths, in that order, included: January 38-58-1; February 45-59-2; March 62-97-2; April 73-103-0; May 61-80-1; June 56-76-1; July 38-59-3; August 50-81-0; September 42-54-4; October 48-91-4; November 48-79-2; and December 29-51-2.

Fellowship donates to aid pupils

A lot of "goodies" were collected for people in need over the holidays. One group of church ladies added a little different twist to the whole idea — putting children's underwear high on the list of priorities.

Central Christian Church's Christian Women's Fellowship sought to come up with items that other groups had not thought of. The group earlier collected lavatory items to donate to a Church Women United program.

Doris Edwards, chairman of the service project of the CWF, said that the underwear, along with gloves, hats, socks and some money, will go to Co-ordinated Youth Services, CYS, along with the area's school nurses, will distribute the items as they are needed.

"There are times," said Mrs. Edwards, "when a child at school will need a change of underwear."

"With so many groups contributing things, we thought we would try to do something a little different."

Two arrested in disturbance

Steven W. Prince, 23, of 3714 Pontoon Road, was charged with battery and disorderly conduct and Alan K. Nunn, 21, of 2453 Center St., was charged with disorderly conduct following a disturbance at 2:40 a.m. Sunday at the office of Dave's Taxi, 1920 State St.

Police alleged Prince and Nunn fought in front of the taxi stand and broke it up. An employee said two customers caused trouble and were asked to leave. When they refused, the employee forced them to go outside, it was reported.

Prince then allegedly opened the front door and threw a bottle of beer at the employee, Mike Brown, striking Brown's shoulder. Brown alleged Prince then entered with a trash can lid in his hands and threatened him with it.

They fought inside and then outside until police arrived, authorities said. Officers alleged Prince and Nunn refused to be quiet and to stop making threats toward Brown. They were told they were under arrest and Prince allegedly refused to be arrested. Force was necessary to make the arrest, officers alleged.

Nunn was released on $100 cash bond at 6 a.m. Sunday and Prince posted $200 bond at 9:20 a.m. Sunday.

Two men face 8 charges

Two local men face a total of eight charges after a disturbance in a Madison tavern at 3 a.m. Sunday and the striking of two Madison policemen during the arrests.

The owner of Helen's Fourth Street Tavern, 1424 Fourth St., said two men came in just before closing time and requested "the strongest drink in the place." Since the men appeared to have been drinking, the owner gave them one beer each and told them they would have to leave after drinking it.

Later, they ordered another and were told the tavern was closing and they would have to leave. They allegedly used profanity toward the owner and threatened to have a known offender "shoot up the tavern."

As they were leaving, one allegedly displayed a pistol and the other pulled the door at the owner. The other man wrestled with him to take the gun away. During the scuffle, the barrel of the gun struck the front door glass, police were told.

An alarm was sounded to the Madison police and a squad car passed a car leaving the tavern in the Youth hurt in fight outside Upper Level

Granite City police broke up an unruly crowd in front of the entrance to the Upper Level Lounge, 19th and State streets, at 3:09 a.m. Sunday and reported one youth had been struck with a fire tool or similar object.

The youth, who suffered a cut to his forehead, refused to name his assailant or to sign a complaint. A witness said the man who hit the youth left the scene in a red Chrysler.

The lounge had reopened Friday night after a seven-day suspension order from Mayor Paul Schuler following a fight which involved a gun and a knife.

Apartment ransacked

Granite City police are investigating a report of a disturbance in a 2100 block of Washington Avenue at 5:05 p.m. Saturday in which four persons, ages 12, 14, 15 and 22, hid in the bathroom of an apartment while neighbors ransacked the dwelling unit.

A girl 1 told officers the problem began in the neighbor's apartment where one of the four victims was threatened with a crowbar. The four ran to the girl's apartment and hid while neighbors allegedly entered, broke items in the apartment and used a crowbar to pry the rear door from its hinges. She also alleged they piled trash bags and trash in front of the apartment entrance.

City to lease parking spaces

Motorists will be able to lease parking spaces in the parking lot at 18th and Edison Avenue at a fee of $5 per month, according to action taken by the City Council last week.

The aldermen enacted an ordinance permitting the city to operate the parking lot through agreements to be effected by the mayor and city clerk with motorists who wish to rent space. The lot has 36 parking spaces.

While Alderman Ronald Coleman said he did not believe the fee was high enough, Alderman Lloyd Bailey, chairman of the council's Downtown Committee, said the $5 fee will bring in $180 per month.

The parking lot was set up under a plan involving the city and the Downtown Merchants, Inc. in which the merchants group paid $125 per month as its share of providing parking room for downtown shoppers. The merchants group no longer operates and the city has received no payments for several years.

The ordinance providing for rental of the parking area provides that parking meters are to be removed from the lot.

The council members also discussed but took no final action on the request for repair of the building at Delmar Avenue and 19th St., which adjoined a building torn down by the city two years ago.

The building owner contends the building wall was damaged by city street workers who tore down the old building following a fire. The city was expected at that time to acquire the land on which the burned building was located.

Alderman Bailey said the city's share of the cost would "run about $4,000."

Mayor Paul Schuler said there were no funds available for the work at the present time.

The aldermen concurred in a request by Sgt. George Gallas of the police department that a 30-day leave of absence granted in mid-December be withdrawn and that he be permitted to return to his duties with the police department.

Gallas requested the 30 days leave to try out a new job as a security officer at an Alton plant.

An ordinance completing the sale of a house at 2605 Center St. that was rehabilitated by the city's Home Rehabilitation Committee was approved. The house was sold to Morris Falkenheim on a high bid of $23,000.

Motion to move trial from Alton

A hearing has been set for Friday in Alton on a motion to move the upcoming federal trial of former sheriff John Maeras.

John Cooper of the sheriff's department and fund-raiser Leland Stoller out of Alton.

The trial is scheduled to begin Monday, Feb. 5, in the federal courthouse at Alton, but Stoller's attorney, Michael J. Costello of Springfield, has filed a motion with U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman for a change of venue.

Costello is contending the three cannot get a fair trial in Alton because of extensive press coverage of the trial of three former Madison policemen in Alton last June and July.

At that trial, Ronald Grzywacz, Richard Krieshek and Edward Goclan were convicted of racketeering and perjury. During the trial and in documents made public from the trial, there were references to Maeras, Cooper and Stoller.

The Maeras-Cooper-Stoller indictment also refers to Grzywacz repeatedly.

Ordination, installation at Nameoki Presbyterian

Ordination and installation services were held yesterday for three members of the Nameoki Presbyterian Church who were elected by the congregation to the Session, or governing board of the church.

Those installed were Kenneth Aud, Nona Corzilius and Francis Cease.

As members of the Session, the trio will become involved in the total overview of the church, including buildings, finance, worship and missions.

They will join current members of the governing board — Ray Hankins, Jo Ann Watts, Gene Flinn, Joyce Toussaint, Charles Bosworth and Marilyn Prince.

The Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of the church, is the board moderator.

Three new deacons also ordained and installed in the same services were Barbara Barr, Dallas Dame and Mary Thrane.

Deacons in the Presbyterian Church minister to those in need, to those sick and to the friendship, the Rev. Pierson explained.

A unique function of the Nameoki Church deacons is the coordination of monthly, all-church fellowship events. These activities include breakfasts, luncheons, barbecues and picnics.

As the "fellowship committee" of the church, the deacons are commissioned to provide events that will strengthen the caring relationships within the congregation, the minister said.

Other members of the Board of Deacons are David King, James Watson, Genevieve McComis, James Lamb, Mindi Sigile and Harold Toussaint.

Superman brightens a family's playroom

Q. We are converting our garage into a family playroom and have built a carpet. The garage is dark and not very appealing although we have finished the walls with wallboard and are ready now to paint. We have a cement floor that needs covering. There are no windows in the garage conversion so natural light is limited to that coming through a sliding glass door that opens into the back yard. We do not have a great deal to spend on decorating this room, yet we want it to be fun for our children to play in and entertain their friends who are now becoming teenagers. Please would you suggest some ideas for us, keeping in mind that the budget is limited - W.T.

A. Family playrooms don't necessarily call for a generous budget - just for ingenuity and perhaps some hard work on your part. That way you can make up for any lack of funds. Some of the most imaginative rooms I've seen have started with an idea.

Take, for example, a room inspired by America's great contemporary folk hero, Superman. The whole room began with a Superman clock and from there the colors and other decorations grew.

You might begin with white walls and a plain white sheet vinyl for the floor. A table can be created by extending a table top from a wall, supported by Superman - a large poster which could be cut out and mounted on plywood for support. Or try painting your own Superman on a wood sheet. Use Superman's bright blue, red and yellow for the colors of the room.

Dining chairs could be inexpensive director's chairs painted white with red, blue, yellow or white canvas seats and backs, zapped with Superman motifs cut from fabric (felt is easy to handle).

Add bolts of lightning cut from foil or paint the lightning on the wall. You might add a bright blue or bright red nylon-covered sofa or a pair of lounge chairs in the room for comfort.

A piece of bright red or blue shag carpeting creates a seating area and provides some warmth for sitting on the floor. If you can find an inexpensive remnant of carpeting in red, look for a small piece of bright yellow or blue and cut out a giant lightning bolt. With a razor blade, carefully cut out the base piece and the inset and attach the two together. Heavy masking tape or duct tape applied to the underside of the carpeting can hold the two together.

For draperies, use solid red or blue and decorate with bands or Ss in yellow or buy Superman sheets or pillowcases and do your window decoration from that for an "Up, up and away" look.

Christine Wallace dies

Mrs. Christine L. Wallace, 87, of Tavernier, Fla., a former local resident, died at her home of a sudden illness Friday.

Mrs. Wallace was born in Edwardsville and resided in Florida 10 years. She formerly lived in Dallas, Tex.

Her husband, William Wallace, preceded her in death in December of 1967. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. M.A. (Dolores) Bowers of Tavernier, Fla.; a sister, Mrs. Martha Jordan of Edwardsville; a brother, Edwin Hessel of Granite City; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

SUPER SETTING. Up, up and away goes Superman and so does this room's imagination with the super hero setting the whimsical tone, and the color scheme as well. Taking its decorating inspiration from a Superman wall clock, reds, blues, and golds dominate against white walls, ceiling and floor.

Edw. Graeish, 53, dies

Edward Graeish, 53, of Belleville, a security guard at American Colloid, 1601 Walnut St., was found without signs of life on the floor of the restroom at that company at 11:30 a.m. Sunday and was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner William Sternberg at 11:50 a.m.

Mr. Graeish was employed by L&R Security of St. Louis and was hired by the Granite City firm. Employees said they saw him a short time earlier standing outside the office door and he was not seen alive again.

Death appeared to be from natural causes. An inquest is being scheduled, Sternberg said.

Born in St. Paul, Minn., he lived in Belleville for many years. He was a teacher at Althoff High School, Belleville, before becoming a security guard.

He was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Among his survivors are his wife, Mrs. Idella (Heckenlaible) Graeish; three sons, Michael, Patrick, and Thomas Graeish, all at home; one daughter, Mrs. Kenneth (Mary Ann) Lickenbrock, Belleville; two brothers, Richard and Robert Graeish, both of St. Paul.

Simon a U. S. Senate hopeful?

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record

Washington Bureau
If Sen. Alvin Stevenson triggers a job rush in 1979 by announcing he will not seek re-election in 1980, Rep. Paul Simon may be a contender for the Democratic nomination.

But Simon makes it abundantly clear his course is charted with "ifs," and that he has no burning desire to give up his job or representing the state's southernmost Congressional district.

The Carbondale Democrat said he would not even consider running unless Stevenson does exit and Simon's longtime friend and political ally, Secretary of State Alvin Dixon, does not seek the nomination.

Stevenson has fueled speculation among his fellow Democrats and among Republicans who would like to reclaim the seat once held by the late Everett McKinley Dirksen and the late Ralph T. Smith, a native of Granite City.

While saying he has made a decision, he is not prepared to announce, Stevenson has said his decision would be a "surprise" to many.

That statement has led some to conclude he does not plan to run, because re-election announcements by incumbents — even those like Stevenson who have had problems with party chieftains — are rarely a surprise.

Cong. Simon said he has "chatted informally" with Stevenson, but that the senator did not confide his plans.

However, Simon thinks any discouraging words coming from Stevenson's junior senator could be the result of weariness and frustration that will end now that he is giving up the chairmanship of the Ethics Committee.

"I think Alvin ultimately will run," Simon said. "I think he has been somewhat distressed by the Ethics Committee job."

"If he had to make the decision now, it would not surprise me if he decided not to run — but he is not going to make that decision right now."

If Stevenson does not run, Simon views Dixon as the Democratic heir apparent. "The person with the first call on the nomination, if he is not 'the best' — Simon said.

"He obviously has statewide name recognition, and he broke a record in his re-election campaign by carrying every county. I have indicated to him that if he wants to go for the Senate, I am going to be for him."

Only if Dixon said "no" to the Senate nomination would Simon begin taking soundings.

Dixon has a lot going for him, including one of the best if not "the best" — campaign organizations in the state. And it does not rest entirely on patronage.

But it is jobs that provide Dixon's biggest barrier to the nomination. If Dixon were elected to the Senate, Gov. James Thompson, a Republican, would name someone to serve out his term as secretary of state.

Presumably, Thompson would appoint a Republican, although a deal for a non-political caretaker always is possible.

All but about 600 of the secretary of state's 3,900 employees are covered by a new personnel code which makes political firings more difficult.

If Dixon should decide to run, he will have to do a tremendous selling job with party leaders on his ability to protect job-holding Democratic incumbents.

On the other hand, if Dixon decides to serve out his present four-year term, the Democratic nomination for governor in 1982 should be virtually his for the asking.

Simon's strength lies in a favorable statewide reputation as a lawmaker and as a Democratic lieutenant governor under a Republican governor, the only such political "odd couple" in the state's history.

But he has not made a bid for statewide office since 1972, when he lost the Democratic gubernatorial primary to Dan Walker.

He was encouraged by many to run against Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., last year, but decided against giving up a safe House seat.

If Simon does not grab for the brass ring in 1980, he will not get another crack at a Senate seat until 1984, 12 years since his last statewide race.

Simon, however, is not camping at the bit — even if Dixon should give him a clear path.

He said he would have to weigh whether he would be willing to give up seniority in the House for a chance at becoming a freshman senator.

And he notes that the Democratic party is not lacking in potential candidates. They have some left over from the last election — Alex Seith, who ran against Percy, and Michael Bakalis and Richard Durbin, who ran for governor and lieutenant governor.

Simon would prefer either Bakalis or Durbin, who was once his aide, to Seith because he feels there might still be "negative feedback" from Seith's Senate campaign, a bitter fight where tactics became the issue.

Seith also is not making any plans. Lake Dixon, Simon and others, he is waiting to see what Stevenson does.

"At this point, it is just mental wheel-spinning," Seith said.

And right now his mental wheels are preoccupied with trying to recoup the more than $700,000 in family funds he invested in his 1978 campaign.

Wilson sole contractor on township sewer job

S. M. Wilson & Co. has become the sole contractor for construction of sanitary sewers in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships, it was disclosed Thursday.

G. H. Sternberg & Co., which was joint-contractor with the Wilson firm when the contract was awarded by the Madison County Special Sewer Committee, has sold its portion of the contract to Wilson.

The $17.6 million project is being leased to Wilson for some parts of the work and will be seen, therefore, on some construction sites, Sternberg commented.

Agency funding $12.6 million of the cost through a grant. The $5 million local share was raised through the sale of revenue bonds to be repaid by taxation on those in the area to be served by the new sewers.

Dance concert

The department of theater and dance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present three performances of works — choreographed by undergraduate and graduate dance majors — under the supervision of Audrey M. Tillant, associate choreographer.

The program, entitled Opus '79, will open in the Communications Building theater at SIUE Jan. 18 at 8:15 p.m., with additional performances scheduled Jan. 19 and 20 at 8:15 p.m.

"The annual student concert has grown considerably since its conception," said Aline Wiltz III, professor of theater and dance. He added, "Our program has never been stronger, and there is a good amount of talent in the choreography of the students."

Among program highlights for Opus '79 is a piece entitled "Dragons," which features the martial arts. Dancing to the improvisations of Zen flutist Alister Ng of Hong Kong will be Tai Chai masters Bill Lengefelder of Belleville and Joe Tung of Hong Kong. The men will be under the direction of SIUE student Lynne Moon, a veteran of the Dayton Ballet Touring Company.

Student choreographers for the dance concert include Kathy Fries and Lynne Moon, Belleville; Robin Cumberland, Collinsville; Linda Gradl and Kathy Flynn McGrath, Edwardsville; and Sherry Davinroy, Millstadt.

Dancers featured in the concert are Robby Scoggins, Belleville; Tomi Cumberland, Collinsville; Jeff Bornemann, Pam Kelley and Melissa Toberman of Edwardsville; Tom Myrda, Fairview Heights; Liz Webb, Mascoutah; and David Alge, St. Louis.

Also dancing will be Nancy Wright Wiltz of Collinsville, a member of the Mid-America Dance Company and director of the Dance Studio in Collinsville.

This year's student production is presented in conjunction with the Southern Illinois Repertory Dance Theater of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. Students majoring in dance at Carbondale will also present a program of their works.

VENICE RED DEVIL Donald Gardner (35) puts up a shot Saturday night at home in his team's 86-73 victory over Altamont. He pumped in 17 points to pace Venice, which raised its worst record to 4-7. Gardner was only one of four Red Devils in double figures. Others were Reggie Mathis (16), Terry Arnold (12), and Laymon Blakely (11). Venice's next game is tomorrow (Tuesday) night at Marquette High in Alton.

VENICE — It might be the weather. Or it might be the season. But whatever the reason the Venice Red Devils are winning.

Saturday, during a blizzard outside, Venice continued its winning ways started in the holiday tournament at Freeburg, by downing Altamont 86-73.

Before Christmas the Red Devils hadn't won a single game, but at Freeburg they turned the 0-6 record to 3-7, and Altamont came win number four.

Unlike Venice's early season opponents, Altamont didn't pose the kind of awesome competition that most of the earlier teams, like Sumner, Vashon, and Madison did. Altamont brought a young team of average height to the Venice gym, and the Red Devils, who seem to be hitting their stride, handled them with comparative ease.

"We didn't play very good," said Venice Coach Ken Perkins. "We must've missed 15 or 16 free throws. This team we played is young. They make sophomore mistakes, but they're going to be good."

But the sophomore mistakes weren't limited to the visitors. The Red Devils made their share. Venice was called for 23 fouls to Altamont's 19. Venice was outscored from the free throw line 23-18. But, unlike previous games this season, Venice managed to overcome these shortcomings. Altamont employed an

Madison snowed out; North-Mater Dei off

GRANITE CITY — The basketball games Saturday for Granite City High School North and Madison High School were postponed because of road and weather conditions.

Granite City North was to have traveled to Breesee for a battle with Breesee Mater Dei. However, because of impending snow (Moreso than conditions at the time), the game was called off.

At present, no date has been set for re-scheduling of the game, but an attempt will be made to do so. The Steelers were searching for their second victory of the season on Saturday night, after having won their first of the campaign Friday over Belleville Althoff, 64-61 (see page 1).

The next action for the Steelers will be this Friday when they will again attempt to travel to Breesee, this time for a game with Breesee Central.

Madison was to have traveled down Interstate 64 to Okawville and a contest with the Rockets, but were forced out of it for fear of being stranded because of heavy snowfall.

According to Madison Head Coach Larry Graham, no new date has been set for the game, but every attempt will be made to work it into the Trojans' schedule.

Madison was looking for some revenge. Last season the Okawville club upset the then-defending state Class A (small school) state champions in Okawville.

The next regularly-scheduled game for Madison will be this Friday at home against Cerro Gordo.

—PETE HAYES

In the second half Altamont's Randy Melleville and Dean Seals carried the team. Melleville scored 24 points on the night, 14 of them in the second half. Seals scored 12 in the second half and 18 for the game.

"Seals just keeps on coming," said Perkins. Venice displayed a balanced attack in the second half, and their somewhat sloppy play, was evident by an abundance of needless fouls, failed to slow down the Red Devils.

Perkins, who is puzzled by his team's overaggressive tendencies, said, "I don't know where it comes from. These guys don't play that much street ball. These bad habits just come out in games. The reaching and grabbing really hurts."

But despite Venice's troubles in the free throw department, Altamont was beaten from the field. Venice, and especially Reggie Mathis was practically unstoppable from outside. And by the final buzzer the Red Devils gunned their way to a 86-73 victory.

Deeee-fense! South strangles two for weekend wins

By DOUG IRVIN

For the Press-Record.

GRANITE CITY — The South cagers blasted Triad Friday night 72-54 on the road and squeaked by Cahokia here on Saturday night 57-53. Senior guard Jeff Parker took top with 35 points on the weekend with 22 against Triad and 13 tallied against the Comanches. Lee Heubner totaled 33 over the two-game span.

SOUTH 57, CAHOKIA 53
"It wasn't very artistic, but it's five in a row," said Don Deterding, South's head coach. Granite City South held the lead throughout all the game except for the first two points which were put in by Tom Chiarelli of Cahokia. Chiarelli put 16 of the Comanches' points on the scoreboard.

The first bucket didn't come until two minutes had expired from the clock. Several missed shots were the cause of the lateness of the first scoring. The first quarter continued its slow characteristic (aside from moment when Heubner stole a Cahokia ball and drove in within ten feet and put two points on South's side of the board).

South kept its lead throughout the contest until the final period. In the fourth stanza of the ball game, Cahokia outscored South by six points and came within three at one time. But the Warrior machine searched its bench and came up with Junior Bill Skinner, a 6'5" center who scored five crucial points for the South squad.

"Bill did a good job for us when he went in there," said Coach Deterding. "Jamie (Blasingame) was having an off-night, so we brought in Bill and it worked out."

If any one deserved an off-night, it would probably have been Blasingame. He was coming off a string performance in the Wood River Tournament.

Cahokia actually scored more points from the field as it scored two more buckets than did the Warriors. However, South put in 15 from the line to only seven for Cahokia.

SOUTH 72, TRIAD 54

Parker highlighted the Warrior show with eleven buckets for 22 points. Heubner hit four from the line and eight field goals to total 20 valued points. South shot an average of 59 percent from the field and 57 percent from the free throw line.

GRANITE CITY — Prather Junior High came from behind in the final round here Saturday to win the Prather Invitational Wrestling Tournament, edging cross-town rival Grigsby 146½-127. Grigsby had the lead going into the championship round.

The final standings were: Prather 146½, Grigsby 127, Bethalto 106½, Mascoutah 99, Edwardsville 94, Coolidge 87, Alton 41. Murphysboro was scheduled to participate, but could not make it to Granite City because of icy road conditions.

Prather is the first Granite City school other than Coolidge to claim the championship of the tourney.

The top dog of the game, however, was Bill Under of Triad with 27 points. Under tallied that many on ten baskets and seven free tosses.

"We did all right against Triad, not super rebounding — but we shot well," commented Coach Deterding. "We didn't play as well against them as we did against Decatur Lakeview."

South downed Lakeview in the Wood River Tournament's championship game last week.

SOUTH'S DEFENSE has kept many opponents in a virtual stranglehold this basketball season. Here, Warriors Jeff Vaughn (left), James Blasingame (30) and Lee Heubner (partially-hidden) surround a Cahokia player during South's Saturday night victory. The Warriors won a pair of weekend games, also downing Triad 72-54 Friday night on the road. South will next see action this Friday at Roxana.

The Sporting Thing

By Pete Hayes
Sports Editor

Oh-oh Ohio!

The citizens of Ohio must be trying to figure out exactly what is going on...as far as their sport scene is concerned.

First there was the incident with Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes (NO relation to this columnist). Of Uncle Woody was at it again. During the closing moments of the Gator Bowl game against Clemson, and with OSU driving for what would have been the go-ahead touchdown, Clemson middle guard Charlie Bauman intercepted a Buckeye pass and was driven out of bounds on the OSU side of the field, right in front of good old Woody.

Wellllll...Woody had had enough of it. He proceeded to help Bauman up and then bust him right in the chops under his face mask. A direct hit to the Adams apple. But who could blame Hayes? I mean, isn't it alright for a grown man to make a complete horse's you-know-what of himself on national TV if he wants to?

Hours after the incident, Hayes was fired by Ohio State officials, ending a 29-year career which saw him become a living legend and one of the greatest college football coaches of all time. But his name in the record books should have an asterisk beside it...denoting that while a good football coach, Hayes was a terrible example of what sports should be all about. Sure, I know that college sports is a dog-eat-dog world. I know that under the table payoffs and special privileges abound.

But that doesn't make what Hayes did OK. In fact, the coaches are the ones who are supposed to set the example.

It wasn't the first time Hayes has been involved in sideline fisticuffs. He has punched out reporters and innocent cameramen who were just doing their jobs. I guess Woody Hayes doesn't feel anyone's job besides his is important.

College football (and the sports world in general) is well-rid of Woody Hayes.

That's not all...

Not only do the people of the Buckeye state have to try and live down the Woody Hayes fiasco, but last week there was another one, this time in St. Louis, that caught national headlines.

Three University of Cincinnati basketball players who were staying at Stouffer's Riverfront in St. Louis were arrested Wednesday last for allegedly breaking into a drugstore-gift shop in the hotel and stealing several stuffed animals, some costume jewelry and a radio. They were spotted by a security guard who chased them.

Apparently, the three athletes climbed over an eight-foot tall glass partition which surrounded the shop and then made away with their loot.

The items were recovered (after most of it had been thrown out of a hotel window). The chain which operates the shop declined to prosecute. But two of the three have been suspended from the team pending investigation by Cincinnati University officials. It's a sad commentary on college sports.

Break losing streak Steelers jump on Althoff, 64-61

By KEVIN ALLEN

GRANITE CITY —
Eureka! Granite City North's Steelers struck gold Friday night. They finally ended up in the win column.

The Steelers beat Althoff's Crusaders 64-61 for their first win of the season. It broke a seven-game losing streak this season (and 15 games going back to last season). The North finally put a strong defensive effort together with effective scoring. It has done both before this season, but this is the first time with the possible exception of the Collinsville game, that both elements have been present on the same night. North's offensive attack was led by guard Dennis Page, with 19 points on the night, and forward Greg Luehman, who put in 17. According to Steeler Coach Bill Ohlendorf, in order for his team to do well Page must score.

Ohlendorf said, "Our defense hasn't given us trouble. We just haven't been putting the ball in the hole."

This game was an exception. The Steelers consistently led Althoff, scoring from inside and outside. Only at the beginning and the end of the game, were the Crusaders able to pull close. The Crusaders were tied with North with a minute left in the first quarter, but the Steelers went on to take a 15-14 lead at the end of the quarter.

Althoff brought out a man-to-man defense to counter North's dependence on strong individual performances, but it failed to stop the Steeler's hot hands. "We haven't seen man-to-man defense all season," said Ohlendorf, "but I thought we did a good job against it."

The Steelers, scrambling and running, built a growing lead in the second period, ahead 26-20 by the half. Althoff was hurt by fouls. The Crusaders were called for 10 infractions in the first half as compared to North's seven. At the free throw line, the Steelers outscored their opponents 12-5.

In the third quarter, Althoff came out running. By the middle of the period they had pulled within five points, 40-35. North held off the surge, however, and managed to retain a 40-41 lead going to the final period.

Free throws were the deciding factor in that quarter, and like in the first period North had the edge in that crucial department. The Steelers who were fouled 11 times, outscored Althoff 11-6 from the free throw line. In the final minute there were seven fouls called. Although during that period

Althoff was within two points, five of the seven fouls were called on the Crusaders, permitting North to add seven points to their score, and assuring its victory.

"Our kids kept their composure and made the free throws when they had to," said Ohlendorf. "We had some shortcomings we weren't able to overcome. Tonight we came on."

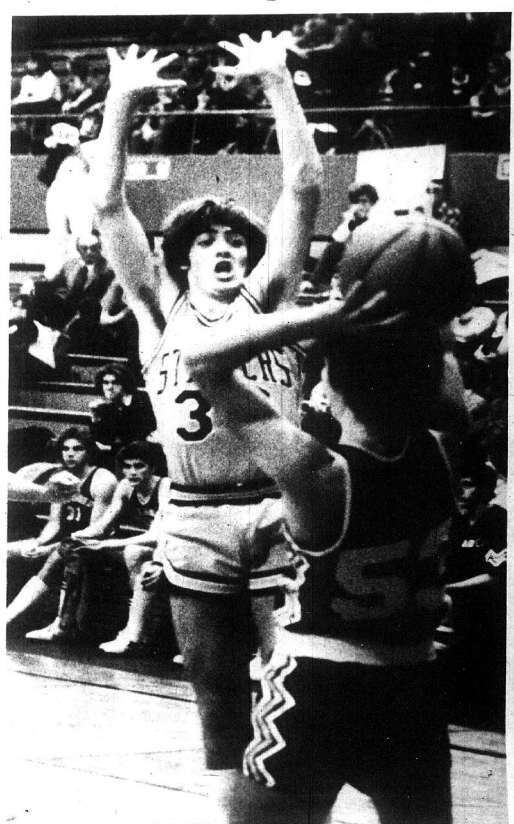

The Steelers, were hampered by injuries, as they have been all season. Mike York was playing with a sprained ankle, but was able, despite it, to come up with four points and some key rebounds.

Ohlendorf, enjoying his first victory of the season, after the game said, "Our zero and seven record wasn't really indicative of our play so far. We needed this badly for our program. And our kids really deserved it."

DENNIS PAGE of North tries to intimidate a Belleville Althoff player Friday night during the Steelers' 64-61 victory. The win was the first for North this season and broke a losing streak to 15 games that extended back into last season. Page scored 19 points to lead the Steeler offensive attack.

SUE falls to Wyoming

Special to the Press-Record

LARAMIE, WYOMING — It was 23 degrees below zero outside the University of Wyoming's Memorial Fieldhouse Saturday night as the Cowboys roped and bulldozed the basketball team from the Soern Illinois University at Edwardsville 99 to 66.

Coach Jim Dudley's SUE Cougar cagers were even colder as they shot a chilling 300 from the floor while the Pokes' of Coach Jim Brandenburg were hitting or a sizzling 511. The loss dropped the Cougars to 4-6 for the season and upped the Western Athletic Conference power to 8-4.

It was quickly obvious that the Cougars were off on their outcourt shooting as they missed their first six shots. And, in the process, fell behind to trail the Cowboys 39-21 at the halftime. For their previous 12 games, the Cougars had been shooting a respectable .462 clip. The first 20 minutes against Wyoming, SUE were able to only get down 12 of 40 tries.

over the same stretch, the Pokes were making good on 17 of 40 shots. It should be noted that both teams had the same number of shots the first half: 40.

In the second half, however, the Cougars made a valiant attempt to catch up, but ended up being outscored 60 to 45. Bennie Lewis's 19 points was high for SUE; he was the only Cougar in double figures. Wyoming was paced by 6-5 Lonnie Buckner with 21 points.

The winner's amazing .571 shooting in the second half (25 of 44) effectively killed all hopes that the Cougars had of making a comeback.

United Auto Workers Action News

Willard Herzing - President Local 1715

"WE CARE ABOUT PEOPLE"

LOCAL 1715 UNITED AUTO WORKERS UNION (U.A.W.) CHRISTMAS SICK COLLECTION

At Christmas in 1971 under the direction of Willard Herzing, newly elected President of Local 1715 United Auto Workers Union (U.A.W.), a new program was instituted for the benefit of our unfortunate members who were not working due to illness or injury. This was the first organized Christmas Collection for the benefit of sick members since the A. O. Smith Plant began operations in 1954. This first Christmas Sick Collection in 1971 was a success with $1240 being collected by the STEWARDS and CHIEF STEWARDS. They in turn forwarded the monies collected to William Schaab, the Financial Secretary-Treasurer who is responsible for the monies that were collected. The money was divided equally and a check in the amount of $20 was sent to each of the 62 members that were not working due to illness or injury.

In 1972 and each succeeding year the Christmas Collection for Sick and Injured was a huge success. The chart below gives a complete account of all monies collected.

Number of members working in plant	Year (December)	Number of members not working due to illness or injury	Amount collected	Amount of check sent to each sick or injured member
793	1971	62	$1240.00	$20.00
880	1972	44	1100.00	25.00
971	1973	54	1296.00	24.00
843	1974	41	871.25	21.25
721	1975	51	1032.75	20.25
1704	1976	77	1925.00	25.00
1722	1977	95	2375.00	25.00
1614	1978	98	2744.00	28.00

This comes to a total over the past 8 years of 522 sick or injured members receiving a total of $12,584 in cash contributions during the Christmas season.

As we approached the Christmas Season in 1978, we found that we had 98 of our members who were not working due to illness or injury and we tried to make their holiday season a little bit brighter. Through the generosity of our members and friends at the A. O. Smith Corp., the STEWARDS and CHIEF STEWARDS collected $2,744, which allowed this union to send a $28 check to each of our members who were not working due to illness or injury. The total amount collected includes a generous contribution from the A. O. Smith Corp.

The members of our union have always shown real unionism and solidarity by supporting all of the programs that were instituted by the leadership of this local union. Besides the Christmas Sick Collection, our members have always contributed generously to all of the voluntary collection programs conducted by this local union in behalf of its members. And with the wholehearted support of the members, the Retiree's Program which includes a Retiree's Christmas dinner, held annually, has always been a success. This same enthusiastic support by the membership has also made the union picnic a huge success. These picnics were held in Lindendale Park, Highland, Illinois, and were for the benefit of the local union retirees and the local union members and their families.

P.S.—Under the United Auto Workers (U.A.W.) Community Action Program (C.A.P.) local union President Willard Herzing has been able to show his concern and he has been able to care for people from all walks of life. The programs instituted by Willard Herzing have always helped the senior citizens, the sick, the injured and the needy, not only in the union but also in the community. All of these programs were very successful and shows what can be done with teamwork in the leadership and solidarity in the membership.

As we begin the new year, Willard Herzing-President, on behalf of the Officers, Chief Stewards, Stewards and the MEMBERS of Local 1715-United Auto Workers of America (U.A.W.), wishes to thank the citizens of Granite City and vicinity, for their wonderful support, at all times, of the United Auto Workers Union (U.A.W.).

IN UNITY THERE IS STRENGTH!

We must all join hands to go forward in the Union and the Community! Michael J. Lesko, Publicity and Education Director, Local 1715 U.A.W.

Arrest 2 at tavern

Two youths were arrested in connection with a disturbance Thursday at Jacobmeyer's Tavern, 2401 Edwards St., and were charged with disorderly conduct. One also was charged with escape after someone let him out of a Granite City police squad car.

Officers were called to the tavern on a report about two youths. Jim Hays, the owner, said he got the two outside, but they were continuing to cause a disturbance. Officers alleged one refused orders to get in his car and cursed Hays and the officer. He was arrested and was placed in the rear of a squad car. The other youth allegedly got out of his car and argued with the officer. He was arrested and, when police got him to the squad car, they discovered the first youth had escaped.

Ricky D. Wofford, 19, of 3325 Terrace Lane, was charged with disorderly conduct and officers were told to watch for the youth who escaped. Nearly two hours later, police arrested Jeffery D. Bladdick, 19, of 1207 Twenty-second St., and charged him with escape and disorderly conduct. Both were released on bond.

Faces 5 charges

Robert M. Householder, 24, Joliet, Ill., faces five charges after he was arrested at 2:35 a.m. Saturday.

Muriel Crable, 1002 Kirkpatrick Homes, called police on her rear door and then broke a window to her apartment. Police arrived and arrested Householder, charging him with criminal damage to property.

It then was discovered four warrants for his arrest were on file and he was served with warrants alleging resisting arrest, battery and two counts of disorderly conduct.

ST. JOHN JACKSON

Dear Dorothy: I'm a college senior with the possibility of a great career ahead of me. Should I marry right away or get my feet planted in a job and then look for a wife? — P.A.

Dear P.A.: Far better to plant your feet now than uproot a marriage later on. Fads may come and go, but the old law still remains. A wife is not just something you pull out of the ground to toss away when she begins to wilt. A wife should be for keeps even through the pitfalls of married life.

You just haven't tilted the soil enough yet. Your far forward slant causes your feelings to overpower your judgment, and the pressure of your writing says that when you love, you love very deeply. So, you'd better stand your ground for awhile yet, lest you find yourself caught in the tender trap. Date and enjoy the company of many girls before you settle down.

A wife and family automatically ties you down to a certain amount of routine. You're not ready for this yet, seen in your bouncy writing. You are a person of many interests and you crave plenty of variety and change, revealed in the long loose loops. You want to travel, meet new people, see new places, etc., but your small writing makes you think twice, and you're restless. Sometimes you don't know what you want to do.

Relax and get the wanderlust out of your system before you settle down.

By all means, plant your feet first.

Then you can begin to cultivate your life for a happy marriage.

Every loss a lesson

"I lost." Those words are hard to pronounce for many tennis players.

Nobody enjoys losing, and for most of us, a bad loss (against someone we know we should beat) can easily ruin an entire day.

It's depressing. Winning is important to us, we were taught that as little kids.

As adults some of us regularly make excuses for our losses, throw a racket here and there, swear a little, cheat a little, and cry a lot. Losing isn't fun, but learning is. And every loss in tennis can be explained in terms of strategy, strokes or fundamentals.

Consider every loss a lesson. When you walk off the court ask yourself what went wrong.

If you couldn't keep him off the net, it was probably because your serve and ground strokes fell short. Better pay attention to this all-important tactic during the next week.

If you ended almost every point with an error, then it would be wise to analyze the margin for error in your game.

And if every smash went awry, you'd benefit from a refresher lesson from your pro.

Tennis gives you every opportunity to fail — most points end with a mistake. It's how you approach these mistakes that determines your chances to eliminate them.

NEIL SEDAKA — All You Need Is the Music (Elektra) — Neil has been around for two decades now, but he still has the bounce of youth in his voice, plus the ability to keep up with popular music trends. The onetime piano prodigy also is a composer of note (his "Love Will Keep Us Together" launched the career of The Captain and Tennille). How does he do it? Says Neil: "You must please yourself — that's the hardest thing — before you can please the public."

PRISCILLA PRESLEY made some comments about her late husband, ELVIS: "He was basically insecure. When Elvis was onstage, he felt he had the audience in his hand and delivering a song made him feel ten feet tall. He felt secure when he got that response out of his audience. I wish everyone could have seen Elvis onstage in Las Vegas because he performed and looked better than anytime I'd ever seen him. He loved what he was doing and sang his best!"

While performing on the stage of the Silver Bird Hotel, Elvis impersonator, the "BIG EL," claims that when he sings religious songs, he can see Elvis come to him onstage with his arms outstretched. If only the rest of us could see it, that would be worth the price of admission alone.

Kidney machines available but not enough donors of kidneys

"For those of you who have been collecting such items as computer price codes, aluminum pull tabs, and cigarette wrappers in the hopes of buying someone time on a kidney machine — please stop.

"These collections are based on unfounded rumors," Linda Powers of the Kidney Foundation of Illinois said Saturday.

"Though the thought behind the action is most admirable, there's little good it can do. Presently, there are no shortages of kidney machines. And no one in need, regardless of age, is denied dialysis treatments.

"At $25,000 per year, the treatments are quite expensive. But in 1973, the Social Security Act was amended to pick up 80 percent of the cost of chronic dialysis.

"The remaining 20 percent is covered by the Illinois Department of Public Health, Public Aid, or private insurance. Of course, there are still financial hardships for the individuals involved but, unfortunately, they cannot be solved by collecting refuse.

"While there is no shortage of kidney machines, there is a severe shortage of organ donors in Illinois. Hundreds of kidney patients are waiting for a kidney transplant, but only one in five will receive a transplant because of this shortage.

"If more people sign an organ donor card, more kidney patients will have a chance for a kidney transplant — literally the 'gift of life.' You can pick up an organ donor card when you renew your driver's license, or contact the Kidney Foundation.

"For groups or individuals who have already accumulated a large number of pull tabs, they can be redeemed at aluminum recycling centers for 17 cents a pound. Funds received from this source can be used in any manner a person chooses.

Disabled GC seniors can get snow removed Handicapped and disabled senior citizens living in Granite City Township still may register for snow removal service by calling 877-8584, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Employees hired through the Manpower program will be utilized in the snow removal task, Hagauer said.

Senior citizens who are taken for hospital treatment and those in wheelchairs transported for other reasons via the specially equipped CHORBUS will be among those whose homes are included in the snow removal service list.

Those working in the program will take out the snow from steps and front

The Directory Assistance charging plan starts now.

Starting with phone bills dated January 4 and later, Illinois Bell will begin charging extra for heavy use of Directory Assistance.

The immediate difference on your phone bill will be a new credit. You'll receive a credit of 25¢ for each of your telephone lines. You'll get it every month. Regardless of how many times you call Directory Assistance.

Starting with bills dated February 4 and after, your bill will carry a 20¢ charge for each call you've made to Directory Assistance over eight per billing month per telephone line.

But there are exceptions.

1. If you're physically unable to look up numbers in your directory, you won't have to pay extra for calling Directory Assistance. Ask your Illinois Bell service representative to send you an exemption form to fill out and mail back.

2. If you call from any coin telephone, you won't be charged extra.

3. The same goes for all calls from telephones in hospitals, hotels and motels.

4. The same also goes for calls to a Long Distance Directory Assistance operator in a different area code.

Here's what we've learned.

From the experience of other telephone companies, we know that, once a plan is in effect, only about 6% of residential customers will end up paying extra in any given month.

Most people avoid the charge simply by keeping their calls to Directory Assistance down.

Illinois Bell wants the conversion to the new plan to be as simple as possible. If you have any questions, call your service representative.

*Business customers with Private Branch Exchange (PBX) or Centrex will be charged in a slightly different way.

Urges care in agreements for home repairs

The Tri-Cities Trades and Labor Council has warned Quad-Cityans about entering into agreements for home improvements without first verifying the status and operations of the contractors.

Edwin Reiske, president of the trades council, said delegates at last week's meeting discussed reports they have received concerning offers to make home repairs and improvements, for which unreasonable prices were charged.

"In some instances these were local persons doing the work, and we expect to check further into reports of their work," Reiske said.

He noted that the elderly persons are foremost among those solicited, and warned them to check into the qualifications of those seeking work.

Frank Niehaus, 88, dies

Frank Niehaus, 88, of 2348 Winters Drive, who was struck by a car in Madison Dec. 22, died at 1:15 p.m. Saturday at the Edwardsville — Care Center, Edwardsville.

Authorities said they are not sure whether his death is related to the accident, because he did not appear seriously injured at the time.

He was crossing Madison Avenue when the auto of Harold Harper, 925a Washington Ave., Madison, turned left from westbound on 12th Street to the south-bound lanes of Madison Avenue, striking Mr. Niehaus.

Harper said the glare of the sun in his eyes prevented him from seeing the pedestrian until it was too late to avoid the accident. Mr. Niehaus was reported walking around and having only one cut visible after the accident. He went to the hospital at Harper's request, and was under medical care until his death, authorities said.

Mr. Niehaus was born in Mount Olive, Ill., and resided in Granite City the last 60 years. He retired in 1956 from Granite City Steel where he was a millwright leader for 30 years.

He was a member of St. John's United Church of Christ and American Legion Post 113.

His wife, Mrs. Caroline Niehaus, preceded him in death in 1934. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Norma Rock of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Emma Lowenstein of Mount Olive, and one grandchild.

Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

McPike tells of financial sacrifice

State Rep. Jim McPike is telling complaining constituents, "I am sorry that you are so upset with the recent pay raise. It is always difficult to determine salary levels for public servants."

"Congressman Paul Findley, with 450,000 constituents, receives $57,500 per year and the mayor of Alton, with 35,000 constituents, receives $26,000."

"Based on this, $28,000 did not seem unreasonable for state legislators who have nearly 200,000 constituents."

"If the 1974 salary of $17,500 per year was increased seven percent each year, the 1979 salary would be $24,500, and the 1982 salary would be $30,000."

"All legislators would prefer an annual cost-of-living increase of seven percent instead of one large increase every four years. However, the 1970 Illinois Constitution makes this impossible."

"Once in office, legislators cannot vote themselves a pay increase. They can only vote to increase the salaries of the incoming legislators."

"Early in December, we voted to increase the salaries of those legislators taking office on Jan. 10, 1979, from $20,000 to $28,000."

"The salary of $20,000 was established in 1974 and went into effect in January 1975. It remained at $20,000 during 1975, 1976, 1977 and 1978."

"I doubt that anyone else in Illinois went for four years without a pay increase."

"If we had not increased the salary that month, the $20,000 would have remained in effect for those senators just elected for 1979, 1980, 1981 and 1982. That would have been eight years without an increase," McPike noted.

"In 1976, working for industry I earned $23,000, drove a free company car, and had free insurance for my family. In 1977, working for constituents, I earned $20,000."

"In 1978, my total salary was again $20,000. My family has sacrificed approximately $10,000 during the two years I have been in office."

"I put in many more hours at less pay working for the state of Illinois than I would if working in industry."

"I don't think that public servants should become rich at the public trough. It is apparent that I have not. However, I believe that they should be adequately compensated and that the salary should be commensurate with their responsibilities."

"The other alternatives are not very appealing. If we pay legislators $5,000 to $10,000 per year, we attract only lawyers and those other professions that can have private practices, or we attract crooks who support their salaries with kickbacks."

"If we offer a mediocre salary, then we attract mediocre public servants."

"When I returned to Springfield in November, I expected to vote on an increase to $25,000. The governor's commission which held hearings on the subject last spring recommended $30,000."

"Leadership of both parties decided to set the level at $28,000."

"Although this is higher than I expected, it amounts

First-night enrollment

Anyone who was unable to sign up for Belleville Area College extension courses in his or her neighborhood may enroll during the first night of the class.

Dr. Warren Nieburg, dean of BAC's General Studies Division, noted that weather conditions prohibited many from enrolling during regular in-person registration.

He suggested that students check the schedules they received in the mail and simply attend class during the first session. Registration forms will be available at that time, he said.

Nieburg pointed out that those who take non-transferable general studies courses must pay tuition at the time they register, while those who are enrolling for credit courses will be billed by the college.

Belleville Area College operates more than 20 extension centers in its 2,000-square-mile district. The district stretches from north of Highland to Chester and from New Baden on the east to the Missouri border. Extension centers provide courses for residents within a few miles of their homes.

Talk on Jr. Achievement

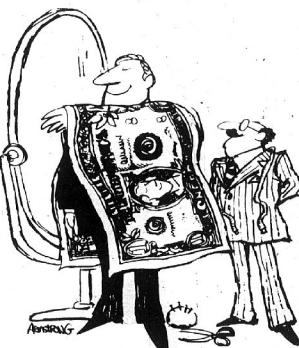

Madison-Venice Rotarians last week heard a review of the Junior Achievement program by James Eisenbeis, a Granite City Steel vice-president who serves on the regional JA board. The possibility of an additional local center being established in Madison or Venice was discussed by club members and the speaker.

President Al Hudzik presided and Henry Gray served as program chairman. At present, about 300 Quad-City high school students participate in 16 Junior Achievement companies at the center on Wabash Avenue.

The Lighter Side

An auto named Stupid (I hope it can't read)

I have joined the ranks of those who must suffer the ravages of the first days of really cold weather without the comfort of a good running automobile. In other words, my stupid car is on the fritz again.

My car has never been a friend to me. Every time I begin to think I can depend on the dumb machine, it quits on me.

I never know from one day to the next if it is going to run.

That car is out to get me for all of the mean things I have done to it in the past.

I go out in the morning and, if it starts, I go to work. If it doesn't, I don't.

The really sad thing is the fact that I have just spent $500 on the ignorant beast. Valve job, tune up, new snow tires, everything it needed—right? Wrong. Now I have a brand new problem and, so far, no one has been able to figure out quite what it is.

That car is out to get me for all of the mean things I have done to it in the past, like forgetting to check the oil and letting it get so dirty that it looks brown instead of light green.

I keep telling myself that the car has no brain and cannot possibly be doing all of the mean things it's done on its own.

I get into the car and try to start it. Nothing, well almost nothing. I do hear a funny little noise.

The starter clicks and some weird noise comes out from under the dash. But the noises that are supposed to be a prelude to the monster's starting do not happen.

So there I sit, totally frustrated. Stupid car. I figure that I know more about cars than the average bear, so I start jiggling things. I also bang on the steering wheel a few times; that always helps.

Now I have to go through the whole business of getting the car fixed again. Seems like I am ALWAYS going through the business of getting the car fixed.

I'd love to get rid of that old crutch; I'd like to have a nice, shiny new car. But since I have not as yet contracted, overwhelming I guess I will just have to get the metal monster fixed again . . . and again . . . and again.

Once I have found someone I think I can trust to do the job right, I sit on him while he is doing it. I want to know exactly what he is doing. I figure that the next time I will do it myself. I have learned many things during the year and a half that I have owned my present gas hog.

Heavy snow moves into area

More winter weather moved into the Quad-City area during the weekend - this time in the form of a snow storm that dumped from four to five inches of snow in various parts of the area, bringing to nine inches the total snow depth on the ground.

It was the second weekend in a row that area residents were plagued with winter weather problems. On the previous weekend the area suffered the worst ice storm in many years that broke thousands of power lines, uprooted trees and felled utility poles.

Snow began falling late Saturday night, presenting driving problems for Sunday-morning commuters. Because it was Sunday, the accumulation of up to three and four inches Sunday morning did not create the usual morning rush-hour traffic problems traditional of heavy snowfalls.

Highways were passable Sunday morning, but side roads and highway ramps were treacherous. A travelers advisory remained in effect through most of Sunday, but the snow tapered off Sunday afternoon.

Low temperatures added to the problems of the heavy snow.

Although highways were in fair shape by this morning, the temperature dipped to 4 degrees below zero and are expected to rise only into the teens this afternoon.

More snow is in the forecast for Wednesday and Thursday, but the National Weather Service predicts it will clear by Friday, with the temperature rising to about 30.

Suit against Granite City

Harold Sabo has filed a lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court on behalf of his son, Kevin Sabo, against the city of Granite City as the result of a July 30, 1977, accident.

It is alleged the younger Sabo was at a one-car accident on Old Route 3 at the Shasta bottling plant and was aiding police in directing traffic when he was struck by a car and was injured.

The suit seeks damages in excess of $15,000.

Fire destroys Venice home; $15,000 loss

A fire destroyed a $15,000 home at 24 (rear) Weaver St., Venice, which belonged to Venice Alderman Oscar King.

Firemen were originally called out at 7:40 p.m. Thursday and were recalled to the scene at 3:45 a.m. Friday when the fire rekindled.

The three-bedroom home was being rented by King to Harold Walker.

Prior to the fire the home, according to authorities, may have been burglarized. A wristwatch, a piggy bank with $35 and an eight-track tape were reported missing.

A six-inch-square concrete block was found inside the house, apparently having been used to break a window to gain entrance.

Damaged building

Vandals damaged the interior of the Lincoln Place Community Center, 622 Niedringhaus Ave., between 6 p.m. Saturday and 2:40 p.m. Sunday.

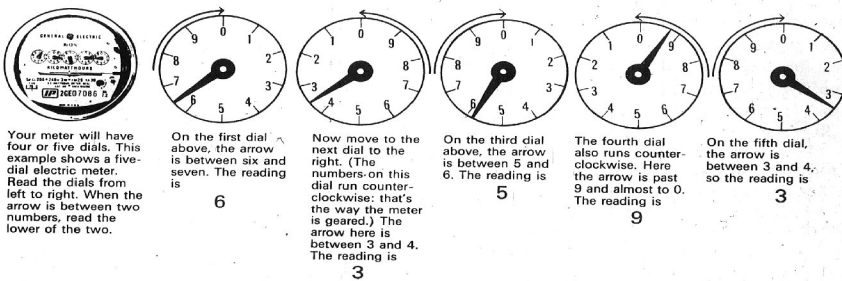

Furniture in two restrooms were knocked down and a partition in the kitchen was damaged. A fire extinguisher was emptied on the basement floor after the door to the basement was broken open.

It has not been determined how entry was gained to the building.

How to read your utility meters

The utility meter is a rugged precision instrument that measures how much electric or gas energy your home is using. Because it's engineered for accuracy, it may look complex. But there's nothing complex about reading your meter. You can do it easily. Here's how:

Your meter reading from left to right on the five dials is 63593. Make a note of the reading. When you read your meter again in, say, a month, it may read 64313, or 720 numbers more. That means you've used 720 kilowatt hours of electricity since you first read the meter.

Your gas meter reads the same but has only four dials and measures therms of gas. If your first reading is 6359 and your next reading is 6431, you've used 72 therms of gas since your first reading.

Reading your own meter from time to time enables you to check how much energy you're using and helps your family realize how wasteful habits can consume energy needlessly.

GC college registration; change food service class

Foodservice sanitation, a course to prepare professional foodservice workers to take the state certification exam, has been changed from Tuesday to Monday nights at Belleville Area College's Granite City extension center.

Registration for all BAC courses in Granite City began today and will continue through Wednesday. Students may register in Room 135 at Granite City High South between 3:30 and 8 p.m.

The Granite City extension center is the largest of the community college's 23 such centers. Frank Kraus is BAC-Granite City coordinator.

Groups raising funds for annexation fight

Officials of taxing bodies in Nameoki and Chouteau townships will be holding meetings in the next few weeks to determine if about $3,000 to $5,000 can be raised for a legal fight to overturn the annexation by Granite City of a 427-acre tract of land planned for industrial development.

A previous article erroneously quoted the estimate of the cost of the lawsuit as between $300,000 and $500,000.

Officials of the townships, the Mitchell and Long Lake volunteer fire departments, the Mitchell Public Water District, the Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice Levee and Drainage District and the village of Pontoon Beach met last week to discuss ways in which the annexation, or future annexations, can be fought.

Supervisor Harold David of Nameoki Township said he feels there are provisions in the law which prohibits cities from annexing property if the annexation would drastically reduce the tax base of taxing bodies in the townships affected.

Chouteau Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks asked all of the 23 officials at the gathering to meet with their various groups and attempt to determine how much money each taxing body can raise for the legal fight.

The Nameoki Town Board will meet at 7 p.m. today in the town hall at 4250 Highway 162 to discuss the possibility of presenting a request to electors at the 1979 annual meeting in April for permission to expend tax funds for the legal battle.

CASH FORGED CHECKS

Two stolen checks totaling $883 were forged and cashed at a Granite City bank Thursday, police reported. The checks were stolen from Granite City Steel and were cashed by two men at the bank's drive-through lanes. One was for $507 and the other was for $376. Steel company officials warned banks to watch for the missing checks a short time after the bank had cashed them.

Upper Level appealing revocation

The Upper Level Lounge, 15th and State streets, reopened during the weekend under an appeal to the state liquor license commissioner.

The appeal was filed in response to an order issued Friday by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, acting as the city's liquor license commissioner, who ordered the license of Joseph Stiemmer, owner, permanently revoked.

Schuler's order followed a seven-day suspension from a melee last week involving a knife and a gun, according to police.

REPORT

Blades of steel bind sisters to an icy but enjoyable sport

Cindy and Janet are sisters. They have in common what most siblings do and one thing more, the love of ice skating. Both are working hard to become the best they can be on the blades of steel.

Cindy, 13, and Janet, 9, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald (Billie) McKenna, 3925 Gaslight Walk. The girls have been spending many hours a day on skates for about five years.

According to Pam Siefert, one of the girls' coaches, either or both of the young figure skaters could have a chance at Olympic competition. "Both girls have a lot of talent," she said. "Cindy is older, but she has a lot of drive. Janet has her youth on her side, and she is getting better every day."

Both of the girls began to get interested in ice skating when Cindy attended a session of the Granite City Park District's Skate School.

It wasn't long before a then five-year-old Janet was clamoring to go skating with her sister. Eventually, both of the girls were regularly attending the park district's skating sessions.

Cindy has been taking lessons now for four years and Janet has been studying for two years. Both have two coaches. Pam Siefert, who teaches the Skate School, instructs the girls in dance and freestyle.

Pam Siefert's sister, Andria Wylie, coaches the girls in school figures and freestyle.

The girls are both interested in competing and have already brought home many first-place awards. Cindy and Janet have been a part of several regional contests, placing high, if not winning, every time they enter.

Ice skating competition takes place in several different divisions. Those divisions are based on the skills of the performer. The skills are determined by a testing process under the auspices of the U.S. Figure Skating Association (USFSA). Every skater who hopes to compete must first complete the test that pertains to his or her particular level.

Cindy has taken and passed her preliminary tests in school figures and freestyle and will be tested soon in her first-level freestyle. Janet will take her preliminary tests in figures and freestyle on Jan. 21.

Both are expected to pass easily, according to the girls' coaches.

No matter what level that skaters have attained, there is a division where they can compete, once they have passed their preliminary tests.

School figures are compulsory in most competition, but the freestyle is generally concentrated on, since the winner of the contest will have given the best freestyle performance.

Add the fact that the freestyle is watched by the public, and you have skaters trying to make their performance to music the strongest part of their overall skills.

It is the performing that the two sisters enjoy the most. It is one of the main reasons that they are working hard and taking the USFSA tests. The girls really have the personality it takes to perform, according to Pam Siefert. "They are both cute girls, and that catches the eyes of the judges."

She added that both girls are just a little ahead of their divisions, in that they have developed jumps that are good and they are able to do them consistently.

"Cindy has a double salchow and a double toe loop and Janet has a good single axel and is working on a double salchow. They win a lot of contests because they have these jumps."

The girls' mother, Mrs. Billie McKenna, is very supportive of her children's sport, but not pushy. "I never force the girls to skate. They spend time just skating around in a circle, talking and enjoying their friends."

"The only time that I insist they work is when I am paying for semi-private ice time."

"I don't have to push the kids. They love their skating and both want to get good. All they seem to want to do is skate."

The girls say they want to pass all eight levels of testing and maybe teach skating. In the meantime, they are enjoying the work, the tests, and the competing.

"Besides," said Cindy, "we are having an awful lot of fun."

Sexual abuse workshop set

Stephanie Robbins, an assistant state's attorney of Madison County, will be the principal speaker at an information and training workshop sponsored by the Rape and Sexual Abuse Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Jan. 13.

The workshop is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will take place in the Missouri Room of the University Center.

Additional information about the workshop, which is free and open to the public, is available by calling the abuse center at 692-2197.

Job bias—still a problem

Discrimination continues to be a major hurdle for millions of Americans seeking jobs and employment advancement, according to Weidong J. Rougeau, director of the U.S. Labor Department's Office of Federal Contractors Compliance Programs (OFCCP).

Addressing the annual civil rights conference of United Steelworkers of America District 31, Rougeau said minorities and women still suffer higher levels of unemployment and receive lower wages than their white male counterparts.

As director of OFCCP, he heads a nationwide enforcement program requiring federal contractors and subcontractors to provide equal job opportunity and take affirmative action for minorities, women and members of religious and ethnic groups.

He emphasized that "this nation's affirmative action requirements are not only good social policy, they are economically sound as well."

Rougeau said black people today earn 60 percent of the salaries of most whites, and women receive less than 60 percent of the salaries of most whites, and women receive less than 60 percent of what most men earn.

"It is clear if minorities and women were to receive an equal opportunity to get jobs with the same average pay as white males having comparable education and experience," Rougeau said, "the annual personal income of minorities, women and our nation would be billions of dollars higher."

He said OFCCP's recent reorganization means stronger enforcement of equal job opportunity and affirmative action on government contract work.

Noting that, nationwide, the program is opening 71 new contract compliance offices, Rougeau said, "Enforcement will improve as OFCCP expands its national office network, bringing its services closer to its constituents. Both protected groups and contractors will have easier access to our offices."

Benefit concert by North Band groups

A benefit concert, entitled "Music and Motion," will be given by the Granite City High School North Pep Band, the "Steel City Belles," the national award-winning North Pom Pon Squad and the North Guard Flag and Rifle Squad Thursday, Jan. 18, at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium at GCHS South.

Tickets for the benefit performance may be purchased from any North band student. Prices are $2 for adults and $1 for students. Proceeds of the concert will help fund the uniform drive under way by the North Band Boosters.

Higher base rate for veterans' compensation

The U.S. Department of Labor has revised the federal regulations governing computation of wages of service personnel, used in determining unemployment compensation benefits to reflect increases in pay and allowances received by the military during 1978.

The revisions prescribe the monthly pay rate for each military grade to be used in computing the amount of weekly unemployment insurance newly discharged veterans are eligible to receive.

The pay rates became effective Jan. 1, 1979, and apply to all first claims filed on or after that date. The pay grades and monthly rates are:

'Gasohol' tested by Ill. Bell

Illinois Bell has just announced a six-month trial of gasohol, a potential fuel extender which the company hopes may be an answer to rising fuel costs and possible shortages.

The telephone company said that it will test 15 company vehicles working in the Peoria area with the fuel, blended from 90 percent unleaded gasoline and 10 percent alcohol. In this case, the alcohol — technically called ethanol — is derived from corn.

What effect gasohol has on mileage, maintenance and costs will be determined by comparing the test vehicles with a control group of 15 vehicles, using regular gasoline.

"We'll try to determine if gasohol results in improved mileage, higher octane and, ultimately, improved costs," said R. C. Aldridge, Illinois Bell's division manager for automotive services.

"We regularly test various products to run our business more economically."

"We think that gasohol, if it performs as some claim, might mean longer life for engines, cleaner operation and, therefore, a reduction in tuneups and other maintenance costs."

The company added that telephone inventor Alexander Bell recognized the possibilities of alcohol as a fuel over 60 years ago.

In a 1917 speech in which he noted that coal and oil were limited resources, Bell said: "Alcohol makes a beautifully clean and efficient fuel."

"We need never fear exhaustion of our present fuel supplies so long as we can produce an annual crop of alcohol to any extent desired."

Bright to speak to Explorers

Fred Bright, director of field operations for the Madison County Sheriff's department, will speak at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Madison Police department, 1523 Third St., Madison.

Bright will be the guest of Explorer Post 104 sponsored by the Madison Police Unit 110.

Kieth Sanders, president of Post 104, said that the meeting is open to the public, law enforcement officers, and youth interested in law enforcement careers are welcome.

Bright will explain changes in the sheriff's department.

He is in charge of all patrolling, detective work, training, investigations, crime prevention and court liaison for Sheriff Emil Toffant.

Bright formerly is from Madison and as a youth was active in Boy Scout Troop 21 sponsored by the First United Presbyterian Church in Madison.

"THE TIME HAS COME," THE WALRUS SAID, "TO SPEAK OF MANY THINGS!"

On no, not of groceries, but cabbages and kings. What has cabbages to do with kings or happiness, you might ask?

Well, I will say that this world of ours is based on economics, whether you are king or queen, you must have a well balanced exchequer to be free of worry (the enemy of happiness). Many kings have been deposed because of their inability to pay their soldiers. In those days, there were no super markets, that gave the maximum of value day after day. Today it is harder, more pleasant — you'll find it easier to pay your soldiers, if you shop with us.

Truly, the best of the tubers comes from Idaho where mineral-rich volcanic soil, high elevation, clear mountain water and sun-filled days combine for the unique quality, texture, flavor and nutrients that only Idaho Baking Potatoes offer. The "Golden Crown" brand of Idaho potatoes is produced especially for Kroger by selected growers and packers. That's why we can offer such outstanding values on these prime favorites whenever you shop Kroger.
